Salary Goal Of State Teachers Is Agreed Upon

Thousand Delegates To State Convention Fix Legislative Goal For Year

NEW STATE TAXES WILL BE NEEDED

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Liberal annual increments supplemented a new salary program based on a $2400-a-year minimum wage was the legislative goal today of the Pennsylvania State Education association.

Approximately 1000 delegates to the annual convention at Harrisburg unanimously approved a legislative committee's wage proposals after inserting a section demanding increased increments. The meeting will close today.

Governor-elect James H. Duff last night told delegates that teachers "have the right to expect adequate compensation that increases with the increased cost of living" but made no mention of wage levels.

Need Increased Taxes

Duff pointed out that increased taxes would be necessary to finance the salary boosts, unofficially estimated to cost about $90,000,000 a biennium.

The committee recommended maximum annual salaries of $4400 for teachers with masters' degrees and $4100 for teachers holding only bachelors' degrees. Teachers lacking college degrees would receive a maximum of $3800 a year under the committee's proposals.

The wage program adopted by the General Assembly during the 1945 session held salaries to a $1400-$2000 scale supplemented by annual increments.

The wages proposed $175 increase for each three years of experience until maximum levels were reached.

The plan scheduled to be presented to the legislature during its 1947 session, was designed to become effective during the 1947-48 school year.

The PSEA recommended state subsidies be increased from the present $600-1800 range to $900-$2660 for the next biennium; $1000-$2800 for the 1949-51 period; and $1030-$3000 for the 1951-53 biennium.

New real estate tax ceilings were recommended to enable districts to increase revenues. The proposal pointed out that "the current situation in Philadelhpia and Pittsburgh is particularly notable in that the limitations now in effect place in jeopardy the operation of the present school program.

Pa Newc is wondering at this time of the year how many of those diaries that were started on January 1, 1946, with all good intentions were kept up. By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A top-level conference on the fate of the veterans temporary housing program was scheduled today for this weekend at the National Housing Agency.

NHA Administrator Raymond Foley told reporters he will meet with Dillon Myer, Federal Public Housing Authority head, to determine whether efforts will be made to complete the program. He said an announcement can be expected early next week.

Veto Question Biggest Issue

U. S. Demands Banning Veto On Punishment Of Atom Control Code Violators

ONLY ALTERNATIVE U. S. KEEPS ATOM BOMB

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The Atomic Energy commission's approval on Monday of a draft report to the Security Council banning any veto on punishment for violators of the control code was forecast today by United States sources.

Failure to reach full agreement in the working committee after an eight-hour session on exclusion of the veto moved American spokesmen to hint that the entire issue in its final stage before the commission boils down to the following alternative:

U. S. Stands Firm

Either the draft includes the wording insisted on by the United States as now contained that there shall be no veto on punishment, or the atom bomb will not be yielded in the future to international control.

The committee deferred full decision on the completed draft report by deferring decision on the document until Monday, when the formal meeting of the atomic energy

Hair Clipper Is Object Of Hunt In Washington

Three Girls Report Losing Tresses While Riding Street Cars In Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Cops and policewomen of the nation's capital were on the hunt today for "Jack-the-Snipper," who whacks hanks of hair from pretty girls on Washington trolley cars.

Three times in the last 24 hours the peculiar character has operated. He twice has snipped souvenirs from shoulder-length tresses and once has helped himself to nine inches of a schoolgirl's pigtail.

Maj. Harvey G. Callahan, superintendent of police, warned that the hair bandit may be a potentially dangerous sex maniac and Dr. Winfred Overholser, head of St. Elizabeth's hospital, said "there always is the chance of violence in such cases."

The victims were Diana Sklarsky, 12; Jean Thompson, 19, and Janice Rome, 18.

Tall Dark Young Man

All told police they had noticed a "tall, dark and hatless" young man riding in seats behind them.

Diana, who lost a big slice of pigtail, said she did not know she had been shorn until she got home. Jean and Janice, who lost approximately six inches of hair each, likewise were unaware of the tonsorial thievery until after they had left their trams.

All three of the girls needed major overhauls at beauty shops.

Capital Transit Co. employes were aiding police in the search, but meantime Washington's government girls and other ladies were keeping an anxious eye open and their ears alert for the snipper.

DEBUTANTE IS BURNED

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Virginia Black, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Black, president of Doubleday & Co. book publishers, was reported recovering today from first degree burns in Doctors Hospital.

Virginia was to make her debut tonight at the Hotel St. Regis.

While attending a party last night, flames started by a carelessly thrown cigarette, caught the dancing frock of Virginia. She suffered painful but not serious burns, physicians said.

Mighty Battle On Governorship Looms In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 27.—(INS)—A mighty political struggle loomed today in Georgia as would-be governors girded for a show-down battle to take the place of the late Gov.-Elect Eugene Talmadge in the gubernatorial chair.

Herman Talmadge's hat was in the ring, after he pleaded a fight to the finish for the principles "for which my father gave his life". Young Talmadge listed those principles as the white primary, the county unit system and increased state services.

Talmadge is seeking the governorship through an election by the state legislature.

Not Likely To Get Post

However, a source close to Gov. Ellis Arnall expressed the determination that Herman Talmadge will not get to be chief executive of the state.

Arnall, however, has already announced that he will turn over his office to Lt. Gov-Elect M. E. Thompson.

The prospect of Georgia's having two governors at one time also appeared on the horizon when Talmadge supporters stated:

"Let Ellis sit over there. We'll just set up offices some place else and go to work".

In a state in which governors have employed state troops in political fights, the use of force also was being discussed.

Maintain Service Despite Strike

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 28.—(INS)—Full service was being maintained today to Northern New Jersey homes and industries despite a workers strike at the Harrison and Newark plants of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

About 400 workers in the Harrison and Newark plants walked out but 60 supervisory employes kept the service on a normal level.

The strike in the Harrison and Newark works, which have the highest producing capacity of any plants in the state, followed settlement of a three day strike in the West End Gas Works at Jersey City and the Central Gas Works in Piscataway township.

The men are striking for a 30-cent hour boost in wages and changes in their working conditions.

FOOD PRICES WILL REMAIN HIGH IN 1947 IS FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Government officials agreed today that food prices will remain high in 1947 and gradually fall to pre-war levels as supply catches up with demand.

The prices of dairy products, meat, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruits are expected to stay above pre-war levels for most of next year.

Agriculture Department experts said that there are no prospects of a sharp price drop for any food item despite the sudden fall of butter prices Wednesday.

In fact, they pointed out that the prices of some food commodities may rise slightly within the next few months.

De Gaulle declared:

"I do not believe in conscience that it would be right for me to serve my country if I pretend to become the guarantor of a constitution which establishes this regime, and preside powerless in a powerless state."

Meyers, Pa., May Have Been Home Of Creek Victim

Social Security Card Found Near Scene Gives New Home Address Of Man

Making a search of the ground in the vicinity of the Neshannock creek, near Rural avenue, where the body of a man was found frozen in the ice Thursday afternoon, Police Lieutenant G. S. Kennedy and cruiser operator, George Price found a coat today. With the coat was a social security card which bore the name William Donaldson and gave the residence as Meyers, Pa., and his occupation as employe of a brick yard.

Through fingerprints taken Friday by Captain Willis McMullen of the police department, identification of the body had been made as William Donaldson, but the address given in 1935 on that record was Dayton, O. Police investigation at Dayton failed to find any relatives or traces of Mr. Donaldson's past there.

The card found today indicates that the later residence of Donaldson was at Meyers, Pa., and Police Chief Robert D. Hanna is communicating with police in that city to ascertain if any relatives can be located there.

Police are continuing investigation of the case and facts surrounding the death of the victim.

Hohenzollern Silver Treasure Brought To U.S. Poses Problems

By FRANCES MUSIC
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Army legal experts thumbed through their law books today for an answer to what should be done with the German Hohenzollern silver treasure brought to this country from Berlin by the 175th regiment.

It was disclosed that the 500 settings of silverware carrying the imperial crest have been removed from a vault of the fifth regiment armory in Baltimore to the customs bureau there for appraisal.

Unofficial estimates of the value of the trove start at $200,000.

Customs officials disclosed that they plan to turn the seized fortune in silver over to army headquarters in Washington when an evaluation is made.

Thorny Legal Problem

Army lawyers admitted that this plan poses a thorny legal problem for them to untangle. Belief was expressed by some that no law exists which would permit the United States to keep the silver.

They added, however, that it might be used to cover partially reparations chalked upon against Germany.

Moreover, should it be found that the fortune can be retained in the United States rather than returned to Germany, sources expected to be

U. S. Stands Ready To Press Claims For Parts Of Antarctica

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — The United States stood ready today to press a claim for sovereignty over huge sections of Antarctica if some other power should assert it has an exclusive right to any part of that unknown territory.

A statement of U. S. policy was issued by the State department as expeditions from American shores and foreign lands raced to establish claim to the frigid icecap.

Thus far no official statement has been made as to what the competing countries hope to find in the huge ice-covered continent.

The most glib explanation is evidences of huge uranium deposits underneath. Others contend that operations in the area may establish tests of polar equipment and military operations.

Whatever the reason, Russia, Australia, Britain, Argentina and Chile are reported in or about to enter the race. The U. S. expedition is believed to have the lead on most of the others.

Expect Probers Will Condemn Senator Bilbo

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The Senate War Investigating committee today was considered virtually certain of issuing a majority report condemning Senator Bilbo (D) Miss. for his relations with war contractors.

Five of the nine remaining committee members—four Republicans and one Democrat—were described as ready to sign a report holding that Bilbo made improper use of his office as a senator. One senator said that the tenth member, Sen. Mitchell (D) Wash., was out of the balloting because he resigned his Senate seat this week.

Meanwhile, the strange "Bilbo affair" produced an even stranger political phenomenon—the prospect that the new GOP controlled Senate may continue its other Bilbo-investigating committee temporarily under Democratic control.

Republican members, it was learned, will ask a 60-day continuance of this special campaign investigating committee without change in membership if its only remaining work is to write reports on inquiries already completed. It was this committee under Senator Ellender (D) La., which investigated charges of racial discrimination against Bilbo in Mississippi early this month.

All available ambulances were rushed to the scene to transport the injured to the Clinic hospital and the St. Anthony hospital in Michigan City.

Preliminary reports indicated that the crash was caused by the failure of the plane's engines.

Marines And Forest Rangers Leave To Remove Bodies At California Crash Scene

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 28—(INS)—A detachment of 25 marines and 10 forest rangers were scheduled to leave today to remove the bodies from the wreckage of a Western Airlines plane on the northeast slope of Cuyapaipe Peak in the rugged Laguna mountains east of San Diego.

Twelve persons, nine passengers and a crew of three, died in the Christmas eve crash of the plane.

A ground crew reached the wreckage yesterday after deputy sheriffs spotted it with field glasses from a vantage point in the valley.

The ship was en route from El Centro, Cal., to San Diego when it crashed against the 6375-foot peak. The men reaching the wreckage said that the wing and tail sections came through the crash reasonably intact but that the fuselage was both badly smashed and burned.

All of the victims were residents of southern California.

HOHENZOLLERN SILVER TREASURE BROUGHT TO U. S. POSES PROBLEMS

close to the case are at a loss as to what disposition should be made of the silver in this country.

Another Angle

Still another angle was raised by customs officials. They pointed out that duty as high as 65 per cent of the treasure's value might have to be paid in compliance with regulations governing entry in America of foreign valuables.

The 175th, under command of Col. William C. Purnell during the war, is said to have acquired the silver immediately before the fall of Berlin in the spring of 1945.

German officers reportedly led Americans of that regiment to the hidden silver to prevent oncoming Russian fighters from seizing it.

Military lawyers believe that regardless of this offer of the Americans, legality of accepting the silver must be decided because if the treasure is considered state property in Germany individuals were without authority to give it away.

France would be left weak and rudderless, he asserted, in a possible war between the east and west.

Brings Joy In Hospital

—New Castle News Photo

Sister Mary Immaculate lies in a Jameson hospital bed, remembering some nearly forgotten instance as she listens to the soft strains of "Ava Marie" from the violin of Angelo Filigenzi, Jr., local musical protege.

One of the pleasant yuletide memories of Sister Mary Immaculate of Euclid, O., who lies in a bed in the Jameson hospital unable to move, is the joy she received at hearing her favorite songs played by Angelo Filigenzi, Jr., this week.

The French Sister was seriously injured in an automobile accident on December 3 near here and was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital where it was found she was suffering from a fractured vertebra. Little joy can be given to a person lying in a hospital bed unable to move, but when the Sister heard the talented Angelo, who lives with his parents at 716 Neshannock boulevard, she asked him to play for her.

Angelo Filigenzi, who has been playing the violin since he was three years old, responded like the old trouper that he is and played song after song as Sister Immaculate requested.

It was a joy indeed to see the wistful smile on her face as the soft melodious tones came from the violin. The door to the Sister's room was opened a crack so that others down the corridor could hear.

CONFER ON FATE OF VETERANS TEMPORARY HOUSING PROGRAM

1946, is due to fall about 25 per cent short of its goal.

Reasons Given

The reason given was that high building material costs and production delays have made it impossible to stretch 445 million dollars in congressional appropriations as far as had been expected.

Myer is reportedly opposed to seeking additional funds to meet the goals.

He is said to feel that all available materials and labor should be shunted into permanent construction.

However, there appears to be an increasing stream of protests from communities which stand to lose part or all of their government sponsored temporary projects due to the lack of funds.

May Finish Job

Housing officials and individual congressmen are feeling those protests and they may result in a mutual agreement between congress and the administration that enough money should be appropriated to finish the job.

The Foley-Myer conference probably will bring a statement clarifying the present state of the program.

It also may modify the FPHA stand enough to indicate that even though no outright request for funds is made, the agency would like to meet its goals if congress gives the word—and the money.

PARIS TO NEW YORK PLANE IN EIRE DISASTER

York City, company director, suffering from shock and bruises.

William Teale, 30, Paris, unconscious.

Mrs. Edith Augustine Delaby, wife of an American GI, Newark, N. J. Badly burned, with injuries to lower limbs.

Charles Bruce Delaby, her five-months-old son, burns and a fractured leg.

Catherine Ferguson, 25, the plane's hostess, Jackson Heights, New York City, shock and knee injuries.

Admitted to the county hospital at Ennis suffering from serious injuries were Dudley Hill, 34, of Virginia, an unidentified 12-year-old French boy and Flight Officer Herbert Tansey, Falls Church, Va.

Gunther N. Lubsynski (identified by TWA in Paris as a Frenchman), was removed to Barrington hospital suffering from critical fractures of both legs and left arm and internal injuries.

Crash At 2:15 A. M.

The plane, which had left Paris at midnight, crashed onto Bog island in the Shannon river estuary at 2:15 a. m. (9:19 p. m. EST yesterday.)

Catherine Ferguson, hostess aboard the plane, was one of the first rescued. She carried the four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Delaby. The baby had suffered a fractured hip in the accident and was tossed into the arms of the hostess by the shock of the crash.

Later rescuers found Mrs. Delaby alive in the wreckage and she was transported to the hospital in serious condition.

The first rescue party to arrive at the scene of the crash was led by Capt. T. S. Harrington, a trans-Atlantic pilot.

He said:

"There were only one or two people at the scene when we got there. There was a terrific struggle to reach the place. The mud was knee deep and the island was one vast bog condition.

"It was simply unbelievable."

Harrington added:

"First we had to cross the river and after considerable difficulty we roused the local boatmen who took us across in flat bottomed boats.

"Eventually we got the survivors and the dead back to where fleet ambulances waited."

Harrington, who is scheduled to fly to New York this afternoon, said the plane obviously broke its back when it crashed and then caught fire.

GOVERNOR MARTIN PLANS TO RESIGN ON JANUARY 2

the retiring governor reported. Bell will take his oath of office from State Supreme Court Chief Justice George W. Maxey of Scranton.

"I'm doing what I think is best for the people of Pennsylvania," Martain said in announcing his resignation. "I'll resign to the people of Pennsylvania and then submit it to the secretary of the commonwealth."

Duff will preside during the public ceremonies, he added.

Second To Resign

Martin, first governor of Pennsylvania to be elected a U. S. senator since 1855, will be the second chief executive to resign before the end of his administration. Francis Rawn Shunk, then very ill, quit the executive's post on July 9, 1848. Eleven days later he died.

George I. Bloom, Martin's boyhood friend who has served as the governor's secretary for the past four years will remain at the state capitol in the same capacity during Bell's interim administration, Martin announced.

He said he had asked Bloom, a resident of Washington, Pa., to accompany him to the nations' capitol as secretary but had not received a reply. Mrs. Louella M. Boeschen of Harrisburg, Martin's personal secretary, will act in a similar capacity after he is sworn into office in the Senate.

The retiring governor said his administrative docket was clear and reported that "there hasn't been a time since we've been here that there have been so few problems."

His Father's Shoes

It is ofttimes difficult for a son to fill the shoes of his father, especially when his father has achieved the distinction of being the president of the United States. Elliott Roosevelt seems bent upon filling the shoes of his late father, but we cannot help but believe that the size is much too large for him.

Elliott has just returned from Russia where he had a friendly chit-chat with Premier Stalin. He has said that he intends to continue his criticism of the present foreign policy, and that he intends to write a book on his experiences in Russia. By implication it will be a book filled with fulsome praise of the Russian philosophy of government and an approval of the theories of Henry Agard Wallace.

This is the same Elliott Roosevelt of the "I Want To Be a Captain" era. This is the same Elliott Roosevelt who sent a dog across the nation, depriving service men of a place in a plane. This is the same Elliott Roosevelt who was mixed up with some rather queer financing several years ago in which a wealthy man made a loan and got little of his money back.

If there is anything in the record of Elliott Roosevelt to indicate that he has any knowledge of international affairs then it does not appear in his actions or writings. We would not suggest any connection between the fact that he was a president's son and the fact that he was promoted to a brigadier-general of the Army, but it seems more than a coincidence.

That noise you hear is the rattle from Elliott's shoes as he tries to fill the shoes of his late father.

Keeping A Nucleus

During the past year, while private industry was going through the throes of reconversion, the government was busy dismantling a vast war industry of its own. When the fighting ended there were no less than 3,200 plants which were either owned by the government outright or had been financed with federal funds. When the war ended the government had no further use for the great majority of these factories.

So far the Army and Navy Munitions board has turned over to the War Assets Administration for disposal as surplus approximately 2,800 of these plants. Of the remaining 400 it would like to retain and operate a small nucleus of sixty factories which have facilities for manufacturing aircraft or building ships or which have specialized equipment for making munitions.

This is a sound program for keeping the country industrially prepared for any future emergency. It recognizes that the government must depend upon the productive genius of private industry to maintain the nation's industrial strength. It shows an awareness of the fact that it would be unwise and uneconomic for the government to keep productive facilities which would simply deteriorate in idleness and which would probably be obsolete before the need for them arose.

It also takes into account the fact that there are certain specialized lines of manufacture of death-dealing equipment in which government must supplement the efforts of private industry.

What To Print

Seven years ago editors of American newspapers, in an effort to get answers to their perennial perplexity about what the readers like to read, inaugurated a progressive series of survey-studies. The fact-finders whose job it was to interview the readers came up with some highly interesting results.

An upcurve of serious thinking that began before the war still is going up, as reflected in a surprisingly high readership of the editorial page. Of the men interviewed, the percentage who read editorials ranged from 77 to 17, with a median of 45. For women, the median was 29. Interest in comics, financial news, radio programs and society news showed a postwar decline.

Outstanding news photos consistently drew the highest readership, appealing to 89 per cent of the men and 91 per cent of the women. The best reads news stories are 20 points below these. Among the women the best read departmental features are deaths, comics, humor panels, oddities and the weather. Postwar studies reveal that men's readership of department store advertising has increased 18 percentage points, while women's has increased 8 points.

Publishers realize that any readership study must be on a continuing basis, because public tastes fluctuate with economic and other conditions. Nor can the factual results be applied too strictly and generally. Newspapers still must be well-edited and forceful, and what a slide-rule can do for one will not apply in any equality of results for another. They still have an intangible to preserve—something which is called individuality, sometimes character.

'Atomic' Preparedness

Much as Americans may hate the very thought of another war, they will agree that their military authorities are acting wisely in so organizing the armed services that they will be equal to the demands which "atomic age" conflict would put upon them. This reorganization, just announced by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Army Ground Forces commander, is in no sense a case of rattling the saber. It is merely a sensible step in the direction of giving the nation proper security. As such it should receive the approval of all citizens.

Changes which have been ordered in the size and armament of the infantry and armored divisions are described as "revolutionary." Considering the new conditions created by the discovery and development of the atom bomb, they could hardly be otherwise. Their purpose is to increase fire power, shock effect and maneuverability and as a result much of the equipment used in World War II—tank destroyers and armored cars especially—will be scrapped in favor of less vulnerable weapons of defense.

Only the military experts are in position to know precisely what needs to be done. But laymen may take it for granted that these men are not acting hastily. For months upon months they have been studying the lessons taught by the last war and making the experience gained there the basis of possible future defense.

Everyone hopes, of course, that the Army never again will be called upon to engage in actual combat, but it is encouraging to know that in case of eventuality the nation will have at its command armed forces that are efficiently organized and adequately equipped.

Announcement the government has a supply of dog toenail files for sale came too late to insure Fido a happy Christmas.

Under the Soviet's unique plan of free enterprise, that seventeen-pound gold nugget found in Russia will go to the state.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Report President Approves Hannegan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—If there is one person out of official Washington who really is enjoying this holiday interlude, it is Robert E. Hannegan, the Democratic national chairman and postmaster general.

Shortly after the Republican landslide in November, Hannegan went to Florida in a state bordering on exhaustion. It was considered certain that he would step out of at least one of his jobs—the party chairmanship. In most of the columns written about Hannegan at that time a requiem note crept in.

But rest and the Florida sun have done wonders for him. Those who have been to see him recently report he is rested and relaxed, and that a coat of tan has made him look younger than his 43 years. Whether he will resign the chairmanship is still an open question, according to those who have talked with him.

The answer will depend on what his doctors tell him when he returns to Washington around January 15. A great deal will depend on whether it is judged necessary for Hannegan to undergo an operation to relieve the high blood pressure from which he suffers. If Hannegan decides to keep the post of chairman, he will have the backing of President Truman.

This would be bad news to Hannegan's critics and enemies. They have assumed that he would retire for reasons of health, probably retaining the postmaster generalship, and thereby make way for a far more conservative regime at Democratic headquarters. Some in the anti-Hannegan camp have assiduously spread the false report that a coolness has grown up between the President and the chairman of the party.

Need New Life

The other day in New York one of Hanegan's predecessors in his two jobs spoke about the need to get new life into the direction of the Democratic party. James A. Farley, now a successful corporation executive, seemed to be hitting at Hannegan. By implication he was saying that if only a different type of direction had prevailed last fall, the outcome would have been different.

This, it seems to me, raised an extremely interesting question. How important is the part played by the professional politician in determining the outcome of major elections.

Farley's own career is a significant case history that throws some light on this question. Few would dispute Big Jim's right to the title of ablest politician of our time. His far-ranging activity did a great deal to help put Franklin D. Roosevelt in the White House in 1933. From the outset of his career he was a highly efficient and hard-working organizer.

But Farley broke with Roosevelt before the 1940 convention. He did not go along with third term. Nor did he take any part in the effort to elect F.D.R. to a fourth term. Yet the change in generalship seemed to make little or no difference in the outcome.

While Roosevelt's popular majorities were not as large as they were in 1936, he was overwhelmingly re-elected both in '40 and '44. The chairman in '40 was Edward J. Flynn. In '44 it was Hannegan.

You can argue, of course, that, with the war on, nothing could have prevented Roosevelt's re-election. But if you use that kind of argument, then you can also make a case for saying that with the war ended nothing could have prevented the Democratic defeat of last November 5.

Cannot Create Conditions

This is another way of saying that larger forces—a periodic shift in the tides of opinion which may be geared to economic change—determine the outcome. The professional politician can help or hinder these forces, in my opinion, but he cannot create them. A dozen Farleys all at work night and day with Big Jim's green ink could scarcely have reversed the tide of the past November.

Hannegan had some severe handicaps. He antagonized some of the President's intimates. Men such as John W. Snyder, now secretary of the treasury, were constantly urging caution and a retreat from the Roosevelt policies. Hannegan's advice ran directly counter to this. He was for a bold approach, supporting the Roosevelt New Deal. The result was a conflict of intention and objective within the President's official family.

One reason that many people would like to see Hannegan out of the chairmanship is because they regard him as standing for the Roosevelt wing of the party. There are, certainly, valid criticisms of the job he did in the last campaign. But if Hannegan does retire, it will be a cause for rejoicing among those who want to restore the Democratic party to the normalcy of Southern conservatism.

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the most widely discussed problems of married life has finally come to my own home, and I need my readers' advice.

The problem is: "Shall a husband help his wife with the dishes?"

In our own home that question has, for twenty-five years, been carefully avoided.

My wife, being a very tolerant and understanding person, has never urged the matter, because she knows that I hate anything even remotely connected with housework, and that I have made it a point to let her know that I can do my best writing on a full stomach immediately after finishing my dessert and my second cup of coffee.

But a most insidious Christmas present has arrived at our house—and from good friends at that.

It is a pair of aprons, beautiful aprons, with ruffles and colored plates and forks and knives and spoons artfully embroidered on them.

But there is another piece of embroidery on those aprons, six inches high, one in blue, the other in red.

One says "HERS", the other "HIS".

They are obviously kitchen aprons and they are obviously to be worn while washing the dishes.

When we opened the box and examined the contents, my wife said "Ah," and I said "Oh."

She handed me the one with "HIS" on it and said, with a sweet but significant smile: "How lovely! I bet it's just what you've always wanted."

I tried it on. It fitted perfectly. I looked in the mirror. It showed a perfect fool.

So there is the apron and there is the problem.

What is your idea about the matter? How do you do it in your own household?

Personally I have always felt that a husband's job is to earn the money for the family and to do whatever chores there are to be done.

I don't mind working around the garden and the barn and fixing defective electric plugs and looking after the oil burner and the firewood and putting out mousetraps and mole poison.

But when it comes to washing or drying dishes—that has always been highly distasteful to me.

Yet, there is that lovely apron, and I am sure that thousands more of those aprons have been manufactured.

Those business men are smart. They wouldn't make those aprons unless there was good use for them.

And there wouldn't be any use for them unless thousands of husbands helped their wives with the dishes.

I am puzzled. Will you help?

In the meantime I wonder whether the "friends" who sent the present are really friends at all.

SENDING FUNERAL FLOWERS

Question: When sending funeral flowers, should any message be written on the inclosed card?

Answer: If they are addressed to a member of the family, "with sympathy" is frequently written. If they are addressed to the deceased, no message should be written.

Question: I am a private secretary. When my employer introduces me to visitors should I stand?

Answer: Do not stand for men visitors. It is optional with women, unless they are elderly or distinguished, in which case you should stand to greet them.

Question: If a person with whom I am talking mispronounces a word and I later find it necessary to use that word, what should I do?

Answer: Avoid use of the word, if possible. Choose a synonym or change the construction. If its repetition is unavoidable, pronounce it properly.

Question: Is it necessary for the guests to stand during a wedding ceremony? (2) Must the bride give her mother and the groom's mother corsages to wear at the ceremony?

Answer: (1) Yes. (2) No. The groom should supply these corsages.

Question: When boys wear business suits to a dance, may the girls correctly wear evening dresses?

Answer: No. They should wear street-length crepe dresses. When girls wear dinner or evening clothes, the boys should, too.

Question: When a bride is married in the rectory and wears a street-length dress, should she carry an arm bouquet?

Answer: No. She should wear a shoulder corsage.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly make personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

The World and the Mud Puddles

CONCERNING FREE ENTERPRISE

The minutes of a directors' meeting of a large midwestern manufacturing corporation offer some interesting commentaries on the status of the United States under the New Deal. An engineer-inventor employee of this corporation perfected and obtained patents on a household device designed to lighten the labors of housewives. He negotiated with the management for production on a royalty basis.

The management, mindful of its obligations to stockholders, put on a comprehensive market survey to ascertain potential demand for the product. It was found, through the survey, that the prospect was exceptionally good for large sales; incidentally, it also was found that distribution could be made through the existing channels of the corporation. The management, greatly enthused, submitted a report to the board of directors, whose sanction was necessary to embrak on the new enterprise. It was estimated that some five thousand workers could be employed and that an initial investment of two million five hundred thousand dollars would be required for plant and tools. The estimate suggested that there was a potential profit of about five per cent for the corporation.

The board of directors submitted the management's report to its auditors and attorneys. Representatives of the management met with the board in formal session to promote their case. After listening to the inventor and the results of the survey on potential sales, the chairman admitted that the enterprise was worthy. But the board refused to endorse it or to vote for the required investment. A summary of the auditors and the legal department offered these objections:

The financial status of the government pointed strongly toward serious inflation.

Building of the required plant might be delayed indefinitely for lack of priorities.

High wages in the building trades, with high cost of materials would call for an outlay that could not be justified.

In the present state of mind of organized labor workers could not be relied upon to give full production or to observe their contracts.

The tax policy of the national administration would preclude any satisfactory dividends to stockholders.

The national administration's policy of controlling both wages and prices would prevent operation on any basis of rational profits.

The unanimous vote of the board, although the merits of the project were conceded, was against the enterprise. The inventor was disappointed in his hope for a deserved reward. Five thousand potential employees were denied jobs. The housewives of the United States were not permitted to enjoy a practical invention. The corporation's investors were denied an expectation on better dividends.

Why? Because the present New Deal government undertakes to substitute politics for economics in its policies and because the government is operated for the benefit of a few labor-politicos instead of for all the people of the United States.

The objections of the board of directors in this case were not based on greed for exorbitant profits, but on a realistic facing of facts. It is the business of corporation directors to provide for investors a legitimate return on their investments. It also is their business to protect investors against loss or injustice. Their decision in this case was not based on politics or prejudice, but on the calmly appraised situation prevailing in our economic life today.

What has become of free enterprise?

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D

DICTATION HARD FOR AVERAGE SCHOOL CHILD

In modern schools which provide good books and equipment and have in the office a duplicating machine, the teacher seldom should find occasion to dictate assignments, outlines, factual materials and the like to the children. Yet some teachers still waste an enormous amount of time dictating materials for the pupils to write down.

Since so many teachers throughout the nation are serving with emergency certificates (which means these teachers are below standard in training) this wasteful practice is probably more prevalent in recent years. Yet we should not be too critical of teachers. Parents pretty generally lack enough interest in their own children and other people's children to provide decent salaries for teachers, with the result that there is a woeful scarcity of good teachers. More tragic, still, thanks to the poor pay for teaching, this scarcity will continue for years since only a small percentage of our brightest and choicest school graduates are choosing to prepare for the teaching profession.

Cut Down Dictation

Nevertheless, I should like to entreat teachers to cut down on dictation exercises at school. If the school does not have spelling books or printed spelling lists from which the child may study, it would be better for the teacher to write the list of words for study (always a short list, too) in large plain letters on the blackboard, making sure the children with poor vision sit close to the board, and that each child has ample time to copy the words correctly.

Even when single words or words in sentences are dictated as in a spelling test, the teacher should speak slowly and give the children ample time so they don't need to be hampered by haste. The average teacher should proceed about half

Television Sets For All Believed Soon Available
Unstable Currency Values Affect European Tourists
Republicans In Social Comeback At Washington

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—The nation's leading television experts believe that it will not be too long before most homes in the country have television receivers. Working on this theory, television companies are going ahead with their investment of millions of dollars into programs expanding their facilities.

For example, the Columbia Broadcasting system has an ambitious, long-range plan for establishing a coast-to-coast television network. CBS experts admit that this will not happen today or next day, but they insist that in a few years west coast audiences will be watching televised pictures of events in the east.

Right now, the industry is split over one question—whether the public should be offered colored television at the present time.

CBS and Radio Corporation of America oppose each other on this issue. CBS wants to operate color stations commercially now, but RCA contends that color television should be tested from four to five years longer before it is placed before the public.

Restoration of Europe's flourishing pre-war travel trade hinges on conditions of foreign currencies and the prospects of lowering present high prices.

Washington economic experts believe that the key to attracting American tourists depends largely on stabilizing current shaky currencies.

They point out that the French franc and Italian lira are on the skids and if they plummet, they may well take other currencies with them and deprive the continent of the rich tourist trade which poured millions of dollars into European hands before the war.

While unstable money values are generally conceded to be the root trouble, other obstacles also are formidable. Among them are slow, inconvenient transportation, low-standard hotel accommodations and scarce food, which can be supplemented by black market purchases.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes claimed he never read the newspapers but he was considered one of the best-informed men in Washington. Current observers of the Washington scene suspect that he was able to determine trends by looking at the social columns or the dinner and cocktail party invitations in his morning's mail.

Social life in Washington reacts not only to election returns but to impending developments in international affairs. On the domestic front, it is noted that Republican leaders of Congress, often missing during the days of the New Deal, now regularly appear in society columns.

Future topnotchers now head the lists of guests at outstanding dinners and parties. On the diplomatic side, the Palestine dispute and the rising issue over control of the Dardanelles is reflected in the capital's social life. The Arab states were represented diplomatically by only three or four envoys until about a year ago. Now all are represented.

In recent months, they have staged some of the more brilliant receptions in Washington. One by Saudi-Arabia recently far eclipsed even the sumptuous parties for which the Russians are known.

"HAPPY NEW YEAR!"

Happy New Year! comes the cry
From the neighbors passing by;
And I wonder, as I hear it,
How is happiness acquired?
Is it fortune that bestows it?
Is the rich man one who knows it?
Are but just a few allowed it,
Though by all it is desired?

Happy New Year! Meaning this:
May the hurts of life you miss.
May you feel no touch of sorrow
And go laughing on your way
But the skies turn gray above us;
We must part from those who love us,
And the happiness we've cherished
May be shattered in a day.

Happy New Year! Time can give
Only years through which to live;
And the happiness we're craving
Is of heart and soul and mind.
One must stand to grief unshaken;
Gladly give as he has taken;
Find his joy in living bravely
And to God's will be resigned.

A LEAKY HEART

Sometimes a person is worried about his heart when there is no reason to worry.

A heart murmur is usually due to a defective valve.

The defect may be very slight. It may not cause any trouble at all. On account of the valve not closing properly there is a murmur or slight noise.

Sometimes a school boy is found to have a murmur. He did not know about it before his routine examination. When his parents are told about it they are worried. They have heard about the dangers of heart trouble. They have learned to believe that a murmur means a leaky heart. They think that it is about like a ship which has been struck by a bomb.

A good way to do is to have a talk with the family doctor. The exact condition will be found out. There may be no reason for worry.

GOP's Joe Martin, as new speaker of the House, will wield a gavel made of petrified wood believed to be 15,000,000 years old. Have the Republicans been out of office long?

Ostriches live to be 75 years old, we read. With their heads in the sand, it must seem twice that long.

In Tokyo men's suits cost as high as $1,000 per copy. Looks like the Japs may have to go back to that old-fashioned kimono.

Double-breasted suit wearers will now be able to get vests. With or without gravy spots?

REVIVAL TESTIMONIES
(Testimony by Mrs. Carolyn Reynolds, 929 Hazel St., New Castle, Pa.)
Praise God! for His Saving and Sanctifying Power. I'm so glad that He has saved and sanctified me. A hunger that I've had for quite some time now has been satisfied when God Sanctified me in this little Bible Mission just a couple of weeks ago. I truly know now that He (Christ) is the "same yesterday, today and forever", and as He sanctified over 1900 years ago He is able to sanctify today. Praise His Name!" The BIBLE MISSION is located on Youngstown Hill, Rev. J. M. Homner, pastor. Pastor's Note: If you want to hear a young man preach the rugged truth be sure to get in for this Sunday Afternoon Holiness Meeting. Rev. Shelar and Mrs. Shelar are both attending Spring Arbor Seminary. This will be a meeting that never, never, will be forgotten. Testimony service too.

Policeman Slain By Two Youths To Be Interred Today

Philadelphia Officer Shot, Clubbed To Death In Lonely Section Christmas Eve

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(INS)—A Philadelphia policeman slain in the line of duty goes to his grave today and the sorrowed fathers of the two youths accused of his murder will attend the funeral.

The dead policeman, Henry J. Hicks, 39, father of six children, was shot and clubbed to death on a lonely street in the Frankford section of Philadelphia on Christmas eve.

His alleged murderers were named by police as Aaron Gore, Jr., and Keith Donaldson, 15-year-old Long Branch, N. J., youths.

Hicks was slain, police said, as he attempted to prevent the youths from running way from home. Authorities said Hicks had even volunteered to arrange transportation back to their home for the two boys so that they would be there for Christmas morning.

Both youngsters come from highly respected families and led model lives prior to the Christmas eve tragedy, according to police.

The commonwealth indicated that it will seek the death penalty when young Gore and Donaldson come up for trial next month. They have been denied bail.

At their hearing in juvenile court, both youths displayed little emotion over the crime which shocked the Quaker city.

Their fathers—Capt. Aaron M. Gore, Sr., an army veteran with 23 years service, and Donald Donaldson, a government-employed electrical engineer—wept openly in court as their sons were charged with the murder of Patrolman Hicks.

Both fathers asked and obtained permission of Hicks' widow to attend the funeral this morning to express sympathy over his death in a Christmas eve shooting.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

as rapidly as she usually does now. Haste makes waste for her and the children, causing them to increase their mistakes.

Verbal Arithmetic Problems

Many a child who can add, subtract, multiply or divide correctly has trouble with verbal (reading) problems in arithmetic. Usually he doesn't take time enough to read the problem carefully in order to be sure of what it means, before attempting to solve it. How much more likely is he to hurry over such a problem when it is dictated.

It is difficult for him to keep all the ideas and facts of the problem in his head after hearing it only once, and not being able to read and reread it from print. He must act quickly. Besides, he naturally concentrates on the numbers in the problem and may miss the meaning entirely. I wish teachers would not dictate such problems. Even if they had to write the problem on the board in spite of the time it took to do so, they would be teaching far more effectively. (My "Home Helps in Arithmetic" may be had in a stamped envelope by addressing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) Suppose you were the mother who wrote the following:

Trouble With Dictation

"My child is in the seventh grade and has trouble taking dictation. Have you any suggestions for helping him?"

In answering her, I warned against criticising this teacher face to face or to the child, about dictation. I suggested, instead, that since the child must face this ordeal at school, this mother might well practice the lad at home for a few minutes daily at taking down a few sentences which she dictates very, very slowly; also that if his penmanship is bad, she might induce him to write from good copy now and then, in order to improve in this skill.

Here's a 4-point guide to good service on party-lines. How about checking it with your telephone habits?

1. Keep calls brief.
2. Space calls well apart so that others may use the line in between.

Former Pittsburgh Detective Faces Several Charges

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Assistant District Attorney William H. Colvin said today that formal charges were being drawn up against Ernest C. Dunbar, former Pittsburgh detective, who admitted yesterday to "gambling away" nearly $11,000 of other people's money.

Dunbar, who is a former regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, surrendered to county detectives upon hearing he was sought for allegedly swindling Mrs. Carol Voltz of $1,222 on a promise to get a new automobile for her.

Dunbar was held without bail pending filing of charges.

In an alleged confession, the ex-detective listed almost $11,000 obtained on bad checks, bad promises and bad faith, Colvin said.

Colvin said Dunbar told him the money had "been gambled away" in Wheeling, W. Va., and Steubenville, O. Dunbar allegedly admitted to losing "over $1,000 a night."

Dunbar told Colvin he had obtained the money from business establishments and acquaintances in the Pittsburgh district.

AUTO LITERALLY CLIMBS UP POLE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Police reported today that Otis F. Freeman, 23, Wilkinsburg, narrowly escaped death last night when the 1946 automobile he was driving literally climbed a pole.

Police said Freeman lost control of the car while rounding a curve and it jumped a curb, bouncing into the air and striking a steel utility pole 10 feet above the ground.

Freeman was thrown clear and received scalp lacerations and a possible fractured skull, police reported.

A. L. Hoffman, Freemen's employer, said he had not given the youth permission to drive the car.

SAFE IN EAGLES' CLUB IS ROBBED AT CHARLEROI

CHARLEROI, Pa., Dec. 28.—(INS)—Washington county police today sought a gang of "professional" safecrackers who opened the safe of the Charleroi Fraternal Order of Eagles club and escaped with at least $1,500.

Police said the safecracking was the second within 24 hours and the thirteenth in three months in Washington county.

The burglars knocked the combination from the safe and looted four locked money boxes of cash estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000, police said.

SMOKE SCARE

Four companies were called to 413 Shady Side at 2:45 o'clock by an alarm from Box 43. It was found that the furnace at the home of Leonard Caimano had been filled with green coal, producing considerable smoke, which later exploded, filling the house with smoke. No damage resulted, and no action was required, Assistant Chief George W. Harper reported.

Unusual Cases In Orphan's Court

One Concerns Estate Of Lawrence County Soldier Who Lost His Life On Bataan

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Ordinarily the Orphans Court is about as productive of human interest stories as the annual report of the Department of Banking. The Orphan's Court disposes of estates and at regular period attorneys appear with the accounts of the estates settled, and after scrutiny by the court they are usually approved.

Friday wasn't an ordinary day in the Lawrence County Orphans' Court for two witnesses testified to events that have tragedy in them. One concerned the death of a Lawrence county soldier in the Bataan "Death March", the other concerned Transylvanian relatives of local people who have been robbed by the Russians and in some instances taken into Russia as slave labor.

Menecice Estate

In the settlement of the estate of Robert E. Menecice, late of Ellwood City, his brother, James P. Menecice, administrator told of his brother's death

Robert E. Menecice was a veteran of World War I. When World War II seemed certain to involve the United States of America he enlisted again although he was then about 42 years of age. He was sent to the Philippines and was one of the American heroes who fought on Bataan against overwhelming odds. He was a corporal in the 60th Coast Aritillery corps.

It is believed Corporal Menecice made the march from Maraveles, down near the point of the peninsula where Bataan touches Manila Bay and the China Sea. The exhaustion, the starvation, and lack of water were too much for him and he died, it is thought, in the hell hole known as Camp O'Donnell.

Taken As Slaves

In the audit of the estate of the late Kate Schell, her niece, Mrs. George Hietsch, testified that there were relatives in Transylvania but whether or not they are still alive cannot be ascertained. The Russian "iron curtain" is drawn tightly and little information leaks out.

A nece and a nephew of the late Kate Schell were taken by the Russians, Mrs. Hietsch said, and sent to Russia as slave labor. Other relatives have had their farms confiscated, their belongings stolen and many of them reduced to abject poverty. Money sent to relatives apparently sticks in the hands of Russian officials who rule the country.

Attorney J. Clyde Guilfillan asked Judge W. Walter Braham to delay the distribution of the estate until such time as it could be determined whether the relatives are alive, and whether they will get what money is due them when and if Transylvania is freed from the Russian yoke.

Transylvania was a part of Austria-Hungary before World War I. The Peace Conference awarded the territory to Roumania and the Roumanians made life miserable for the Transylvanian Saxons. Farms were confiscated. Gypsies were put into political power and ruled ruthlessly and now the Transylvanians have the Russians operating in much the same fashion.

ASK SURVEY

A request has come to the county commissioners from the Lawrence County League of Women Voters asking that the 1947 budget the commissioners appropriate money for the Pennsylvania Public Charities Association to conduct a survey her to determine the situation in regard to neglected children. The request is under advisement.

NEW DETENTION HOME

There is a strong possibility that the county will have a new detention home before too long. The commissioners have in mind including a $40,000 appropriation in the 1947 budget for a new detention home.

Report U.S. Ship Sinking Off Norway

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The London Daily Herald said today that rescue ships are racing to the side of the American steamer Ammermar which had radioed that it was sinking off southern Norway after striking a submerged object.

The Daily Herald said the Farsund radio picked up an SOS from the vessel stating it was in need of "immedate assistance".

According to later radio messages, the crew took to lifeboats after giving the ship's position as south of Cape Lindesnaes, three miles east of Ryvingen lighthouse.

Social Security Revisions Assure Many Of Benefits

Worker Need Not Be Employed At Time Of Eligibility If Enough Time Is Accrued

Approximately 8,200,000 wage and salary earners in the United States will possess lifetime insurance protection under the Federal old-age and survivors insurance program by the end of 1946, including thousands in Lawrence county.

'More than half of these permanently insured persons are young or middle-aged people who have gained that status through the completion of 10 years of steady work in commerce and industry." Edward J. Sinder, manager of the New Castle Social Security office, announced today. "The remainder who have gained permanent insured status are older workers, who have become insured by less than 10 years of covered employment. Many of the latter have reached age 65 and retired, and are already receiving monthly checks.

More Will Gain

"As the years go by, many more millions of workers will gain this valuable insurance protection for themselves and their families. Permanent insured status means two things. To the worker, it means that he has the right to file for monthly benefit checks when he is 65, and that his wife at 65 is entitled to one-half of his benefits. To the family, it means that if the worker dies, that dependent children will receive monthly benefits until they reach age 18; the widow (if living with the wage earner at the time of death, will likewise receive a benefit payment each month she has such a child in her care, and will also, in general, be eligible for monthly benefits when she reaches age 65."

Amount Varies

Mr. Sinder advised that the amount of the benefits at age 65, or in case of death, will vary with the total amount of covered wages to the wage earner. Therefore, it is obviously to the permanently insured workers' advantage to continue in covered employment.

Besides those who permanently insured status, there are many more millions who now are insured, either fully, or curently, in case of death. Such workers, by continuing in covered employment, may in time attain permanently insured status.

Permanently insured workers need take no special action at this time, Sinder explained. As with all insured workers, there are two times for action. First, the worker should get in touch with the social security office when he reaches 65, and second, in case of death, the immediate family or close relatives should make the contact. If anyone has a particular problem or question dealing with Social Security, feel free to visit the Social Security field office, 306 Neshannock avenue, New Castle, Pa.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Canada today lifted restrictions on the importation into Canada of goods made in Japan. The restrictions were lifted by an order-in-council. The order says it is desirable that the dominion be enabled to participate freely in trade with Japan.

Battle Beginning For Georgia Governor Seat

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 28.—(INS)—Georgia's political pot began to boil today as the three-way battle for the 1947-50 governor's chair officially opened.

The succession fight became a three-way affair as seven leaders of the late Eugene Talmadge organization formally inaugurated a campaign to install the governor-elect's son, Herman Talmadge.

The forces backing Lieutenant Governor-Elect M. E. Thompson as the logical man to succeed Ellis Arnall in the executive's chair also gained strength.

Supporters of former Governor E. D. Rivers joined hands with those claiming the position for Thompson. Gov. Arnall has announced that he would remain in office until Thompson was installed in the governor's chair.

The Talmadge leaders made known their campaign late yesterday in a formal statement which asserted that the legislature should select the new governor from the two living candidates who received the highest number of write-in votes in the November general election.

The Talmadge supporters declared it was their conviction that Herman Talmadge was one of the two leaders.

It will not officially be known who received the greatest number of write-in ballots until the general assembly canvasses the ballots.

The Talmadge leaders accused Gov. Arnall of attempting to "dictate to the people of Georgia" in naming a successor to Talmadge, who was to have taken oath of office for the fourth time January 14.

St. Paul Teachers' Strike Is Ended

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 28.—(INS)—The St. Paul city council today awaited receipt of a certified charter amendment as 1,165 public school teachers ended their five-weeks-long strike for higher wages and school improvements.

The teachers promised to report for classes in the city's 77 public schools Monday, Jan. 6.

The close of their strike was announced last night, after the city's charter commission took favorable action on an amendment which provides three million dollars more annually for school operations.

NEGLIGEE BELT SAVES WOMAN FROM PLUNGE IN HOTEL

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(INS)—A 32-year-old blonde identified only as "Helena K." owes her life to a thin silken belt of a negligee.

The belt kept her from plunging from an 11th floor window of the fashionable Drake hotel after she allegedly lost her balance and fell through a closed window.

She hung precariously for 15 minutes until pulled to safety by a companion and two fast-thinking rescuers. In spite of her ordeal, she suffered only minor injuries.

The woman told police she was attempting to throw a glass of water through a window which she did not realize was closed. She said she lost her balance and plunged through the window.

Testing Novel Undersea Missile

SHARON, Pa.—(INS)—Undersea missles that can be fired from as much as 1,000 feet below the surface, travel great distances at record speed and find their targets with "homing" devices are being planned to keep America defensively strong.

The Westinghouse corporation has a staff of 80 devoting their entire time to the project, and a new building costing $192,000 is under construction to house the development work.

Westinghouse-made offensive electrical torpedoes found a bull's-eye in 372 Japanese ships during World War II, whereby 1,858,200 tons of shipping were sunk.

Plans are underway for the development of offensive and defensive torpedoes thta can be fired far under the water and race to target miles away at speeds far in excess of those yet attained.

TWO DISABLED SOVIET SHIPS ARE RESCUED

TOKYO, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Allied headquarters announced today that two disabled Russian vessels have been rescued in waters off Hokkaido, most northerly of Japan's main home islands.

The first boat was towed into Otaro December 26 after seven men and two women aboard had drifted at sea for 12 days without water.

The second vessel drifted ashore at Utoru December 21 with 70 persons aboard.

Occupation troops reached snowbound Utoru by dogsled December 26 and brought out six Russians and two Japanese.

Deaths In 1946 Show Increase

Public Health Service Estimates Deaths Running 1800 Per Month Ahead Of 1945

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The U. S. Public Health Service estimated today that deaths in 1946 are running nearly 1,800 a month ahead of last year.

According to the agency's calculations, there were 1,162,000 deaths in the United States in the first 10 months of 1946. Last year during the same period 1,144,000 persons died.

The disclosure was made in a Public Health Service announcement that heart disease, cancer and brain hemorrhages strengthened their positions as the nation's top killers in 1945.

They were responsible for 730,936 deaths, compared to 713,483 in 1944. Total deaths in 1945 were 1,401,719 compared to 1,411,338 the previous year.

Infectious Diseases Low

The year 1945 set a record low for deaths due to major infectious diseases. The total of 68,386 deaths from pneumonia and influenza was 8.2 per cent lower than the previous minimum set in 1942 and 16.4 per cent below 1944.

Tuberculosis deaths continued to decline in 1945. There were 52,916—3.3 per cent less than the number in 1944. This was a record low.

An increase in motor vehicle accident deaths from 24,282 in 1944 to 28,076 in 1945 over-balanced a decrease of 3,113 in the number of other deaths from accidental causes. All accidental deaths numbered 95,918.

Other causes of deaths which showed an increase were diphtheria, diabetes mellitus, alcoholism, ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, suicide and homicide. As in previous years, suicide outnumbered homicides by about two to one. Heart disease, the number one killer, caused 424,328 deaths in 1945. Cancer and other malignant tumors account for 177,464 and brain lesions accounted for 129,144.

NEW YEAR'S EVE CELEBRATIONS TO BE EXPENSIVE

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—It is going to cost money to celebrate the new year in New York's hotels and night clubs.

Swankier hotels and night clubs are asking a top of $40 a couple and report a record number of reservations. Liquor will cost extra.

About the only concession most of the clubs and hotels are making are promises that "hangover remedies" will be provided by the "house".

POLICE RAISE BIG FUND

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Don't ever let anyone tell you cops don't have hearts.

Sympathetic Philadelphia policemen, shocked by the Christmas eve slaying of a fellow officer—Patrolman Henry J. Hicks—have already established a special trust fund approximating $5000 to aid his family.

At first, only cops from Hicks' own district contributed, but the drive soon spread rapidly throughout the entire force.

The Philadelphia Inquirer's hero fund voted another $1000 to the fund to provide for the education of Hicks' six children.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Robert Lindsey, 14, of nearby New Cumberland, today rested in the Harrisburg hospital after being shot accidentally in the face and hands by a friend while hunting crows.

Police said Lindsey was struck by Pellets accidentally discharged from the gun of 15-year-old Donald Thomas, also of New Cumberland.

WHY NOT INCLUDE SAFETY IN YOUR RESOLUTIONS?

The grim figures of street and highway accidents in 1946 mean that a lot of Americans didn't include safety in their resolutions for the year. We can make 1947 a safer year if all of us make Safety our Number One Resolution for the year.

Accidents play no favorites. It could be you. Will you help to make 1947 the Year of Safety on the highways? In the meantime this association wishes you a

New Castle High Quintet Defeats Johnstown 35-29

Black Is Star As 'Whiz Kids' Topple Trojans

New Castle Heads For Altoona Today For Battle With Lions At Mosque

FIFTH STRAIGHT WIN FOR LOCALS

(By Telephone To News)

JOHNSTOWN, Dec. 28.—Those New Castle High "Whiz Kids" did it again, but this time they did it a different way.

Playing at the big Johnstown High floor Friday night the New Castle team won 35 to 29 as perhaps 1,000 fans looked on and marveled at the speed of the Bill Douglass coached red and black clad flippers. It was the fifth straight win for the "Kids" since the opening game of the season, when Youngstown East edged them 28 to 25.

Yes, New Castle's youngsters did it a different way last night, in almost every other game they have had to come from behind and seemed to delight in waiting until things looked tough, last night they had a 28 to 17 lead at the end of the third period and made Johnstown try to catch up, which they never did.

Don Black Stars

The veteran Don Black continued his sensational scoring last night, flipping in four of his five field goals the first half to help give New Castle an 18 to 11 lead at halftime. Black had 11 points to be high point-getter in the game, on five field goals and a foul.

New Castle started out slowly. They sort of felt their way around the big Johnstown floor and started to get their bearings toward the end of the period, the only time Johnstown was in the ball game. The quarter ended 5-5.

Seeming to gain more confidence in the second period the locals zipped the ball around nicely and made their shots count, outscoring the Trojans 13 to 6 for the period.

Play Defensive Game

Content after leading 28 to 17 at the end of the third period, the Douglass coached machine went on the defense and protected their lead, as they were outscored 12 to 7 the final period. Spangler with nine points was best in the Johnstown lineup.

Al Marcotuli and Don Spears both looked very good as they entered the game soon after the start and accounted for 12 points between them, six apiece, to help the New Castle victory cause. Don Watters and Chuck Rea each accounted for five points along the way, the Watters lad continuing his brilliant work at the foul line, getting three of the seven fouls made by the New Castleites. New Castle made seven out of 19 fouls. Johnstown made seven out of 11.

Hoping to keep his boys from being over-confident Coach Bill Douglass takes his "Whiz Kids" to the spacious Altoona Mosque floor tonight for a meeting with the giants of Altoona High, four players on the first team ranging over the 6-foot mark, topped by big Al Wood, 6 foot 4.

Altoona will provide the toughest opposition that New Castle has faced this year and if the "Kids" can take this one they will be feared throughout western Pennsylvania, as Altoona is expecting to be in the state finals this year, Coach Phil Rice said.

Newhouser Tops League Hurlers Records Reveal

Detroit Star Hurler Grabs Laurels Over Bobby Feller And 'Bo' Ferriss

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Hal Newhouser, Detroits' sterling southpaw, annexed top pitching laurels in the American league in 1946 in a brilliant three-cornered contest with Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians and Dave (Boo) Ferriss of the Boston Red Sox.

Official league records, released today, show that these three grabbed practically all the hurling honors in the junior circuit.

Newhouser ranked first on the list in earned runs, with 1.94 per game. His leading mark in 1945 was 1.81 per game.

Prince Hal's 26 victories tied him with Feller for the circuit's high win total.

Ferriss Close

Ferriss, who was right behind this pair with 25 victories, beat out Newhouser in the won and lost column. Dave lost only six games for a mark of .806, while Hal's nine defeats left him with .743 for a percentage mark.

Ferriss, however, gave up the most runs, 109, and the most earned runs, 99.

Feller in addition to being third in the earned run column with a mark of 2.18, grabbed off many "mosts" in the records. Rapid Robert hung up a new major league record for strikeouts for a season, with 348. This broke a record which has stood since 1904.

Bob the Gob appeared in more games than any other hurler, 48. He pitched the most innings, 371. He was high in complete games pitched, 36. He allowed the most hits, 277, and the most walks, 153.

Feller Hurls No-Hitter

In addition to a no-hitter against the New York Yankees on April 30, Feller turned in two one-hitters, two three-hitters, four four-hitters and 10 shutouts.

The league had no less than five 20-game winners. They were Newhouser, Feller, Ferriss, Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees and Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox.

Chandler, with a mark of 2.10, was second to Newhouser in the earned run figures. Chandler's record of 20 victories and eight defeats placed him third behind Ferriss and Newhouser in the won and lots column.

Another Yankee, Floyd Bevens, finished fourth behind Newhouser, Chandler and Feller, in the earned run averages with a mark of 2.23 per game.

As a group, the pitchers of the Chicago White Sox led in the earned run figures with 3.10 as their collective average. The New York Yankees, with a mark of 3.13, were second best.

Lou Woods Wins Bout In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Lou Woods, Detroit welterweight, today held a decision over Tommy James, former Chicago Golden Gloves champion and fast-stepping professional.

A second Detroit pugilist, Eddie O'Neill, decisioned "Kid" Cocoa of Puerto Rico in a middleweight tussle.

The two tussles featured a boxing card at the Rainbo Fronton officials said 1,470 fans paid $2,972 to witness the card.

Good-luck charms worn by Louisiana State basketball players are copper pennies, placed in the instep of the basketball shoe, and supported by laces.

Titan Passers Back On Campus

Westminster Will Play Donegan Five At Sharon Tonight, Meet Harvard At Pittsburgh

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 28.—Winners of six of their first seven games, the Westminster College cagers returned to campus Friday after spending Christmas at their homes. They went through a light drill in preparation for a non-collegiate game with Donegans at Sharon Buhl Club, Saturday night.

One of the first acts of Coach Grover Washabaugh Friday when he greeted the returned cagers was to inquire about their physical condition. When the boys left for their homes, a number were still suffering the effects of ptomaine poisoning contracted on the return home from the CCNY game at New York City. The boys all said they have completely recovered and are ready for the "business" end of their schedule.

Although Westminster students will not return to campus until January 6, the cagers will be very active in the meantime. Next Monday night will see the Titans meeting Akron Goodyear at Akron. Thursday night, January 2, the important game with Harvard will be played at Duquesne Gardens, Pittsburgh, with Duquesne University participating in the other half of the program. Two nights later they meet St. Vincent away.

(Special To The News)

KITTANNING, Pa., Dec. 28.—Ellwood City's passers lost a heartbreaker here last night as they finished their tune-up games, beaten in the final five seconds of the contest, 36-35.

The Wolverines, leading for three quarters of the tilt, saw the Kittanning lads overhaul them in the final canto and the rally reach a climax in the exciting finish when Stillson flipped in a fielder to win the battle.

Stillson Stars

Besides his "clutch" goal to ice the game, Stillson paced the scoring for the evening with 17 points. Ben Calderone, with 14, was high man in the "Wolve" lineup.

Ellwood really lost the game at the foul line, the Blue and White only converting three out of twenty-seven attempts.

The Ellwood juniors copped the prelim, 41-10.

Pro World Title Game Suggested

Would Match National League Champions With All-America Loop Winners

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28.—(INS)—A great championship playoff game seemed to place the young All-American Football Conference closer to ultimate peace with the established National Football League than ever before.

After seeing the recent A. A. F. C. playoff battle between the Cleveland Browns and New York Yanks, veteran observers of all sentiments agreed today that the All-America has "arrived" and the National League can now do little else but accept their rivals on a friendly basis.

One All-America Magnate, speaking in the frankest of terms, told International News Service:

"This ball game did more for us than everything else we did all year long."

Chandler Says Yes

All-America Commissioner Jim Crowley said:

"I think you saw the writing on the wall in that Yanks-Browns ball game. I know some of the National Leaguers have already seen it, and I'm hopeful that the rest of 'em will come around too so we can get together like the major leagues in baseball."

To which Happy Chandler, baseball's high commissioner who was a spectator at the game, echoed a coupe of hearty "yeses".

Greenberg Wants $75,000 For 1947 And May Get It

Hank The Slugger Wants Traded To New York Yankees, Will Soon Be 36

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Official American league batting averages disclosed today why Hank Greenberg, the big slugger of the Detroit Tigers, is demanding that his salary be hiked $10,000 to $75,000 next season.

Greenberg, who may quit the game unless he is transferred to the New York Yankees, led hitters of the junior circuit in 1946 in that all-important department, runs-batted-in. This is the fourth time in his illustrious major league career that Hankus Pankus has captured this prized honor.

Williams Walked Most

Greenberg, who will be 36 in a few days, knocked in 127 runs, four more than terrible Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. And Hank rolled up the second highest slugging percentage during the AL campaign. His .604 was topped only by Williams' .667.

Williams also drew the most bases on balls, 156.

Pat Seerey, long-distance hitter of the Cleveland Indians, whose shoelaces come loose every time he takes a cut at the ball, again was the "whiffingest" player in the league for the third straight season. However, this time Seerey was tied by Charley (Killer) Keller of the New York Yankees with 101 strikeouts each.

Henrich Real Target

Tommy Henrich of the Yankees was hit most by pitched balls, seven times.

American league club and players registered a total of 29 records broken or tied, an increase of two over the 1945 total.

Both Bob Feller of Cleveland and Buddy Rosar of the Athletics broke four records.

The New York Yankees broke four team records. Their feats included raising the mark for most years leading in home runs, and collecting 100 or more homers the most times.

No Games Listed In Legion League

Because of the Christmas holiday period, there will be no games played in the Lawrence County American Legion League, this evening.

The schedule will be resumed next Saturday, with Bessemer playing at Wampum, and New Castle meeting Ellwood City. This latter contest will be a fast game, New Castle having won both their games to date, while Ellwood City is anxious to avenge the defeat they sustained at the hands of the fast New Wilmington team in their opening contest last week.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The New York Giants announced today that First Baseman Johnny Mize, Pitcher Bill Voiselle, and Outfielder Willard Marshall have signed contracts for the 1947 season.

Graziano-Shanks Bout Postponed

Graziano Has Backache, Shanks Refuses To Meet LaMotta

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—My longtime pal, Chris Dundee, is no dope.

That's why Madison Square Garden was dark as a haunted house last night, the occasion when Rocky Graziano and Ruben Shanks were to have met in a fight designed to aid the widow of the late James J. Johnston.

Graziano, of the lower east side Grazianos, and Shanks, who is reputed to be a Denver cowboy, arranged to disarrange that post-Christmas benefit and if on that account stockings stayed empty instead of being filled with jingle-jangle—then Merry Christmas anyhow.

Graziano found himself overtaken a few days ago by a backache of such severity that he was forced to pull himself out of the match without sufficient time for obtaining a substitute.

However, Matchmaker Nat Rodgers came up with Jake Lamotta, of the Bronx, and offered Shanks five per cent more than he was originally guaranteed for this charity match. Not even that could get him into the ring with the Bronx Spoiler.

Shanks is managed by Chris Dundee, who no doubt figured out that even beating Lamotta wouldn't prove much of anything for Shanks. Taking a licking from Graziano would be more desirable because Graziano is the chief middleweight contender. Then there would always be the 100 to 1 chance that Shanks might cop the nod, in the vernacular of the garden spooks.

Mass Evidence To Detain Paris

District Attorney Must Produce Evidence By Monday To Deny Alleged "Fixer" Bail

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The district attorney's office marshalled its evidence today in a new move to keep Alvin J. Paris, would-be football game fixer, in custody.

Paris went back to a tombs cell for the week end after Supreme Court Justice Samuel Mull gave the district attorney's office until 10:30 a.m. Monday to produce evidence supporting its contention that Paris should be denied bail.

Secret Testimony

The hearing was featured by secret testimony giving a quote-by-quote description of telephoned threats to slap Paris and witnesses to the case.

Defense Counsel Caesar B. F. Barra read into the record the sworn testimony of acting Capt. Raymond Maguire of the police safe and loft squad. This was the testimony Maguire gave behind closed doors in General Sessions Judge Valente's chambers December 17.

Justice Mull indicated that he will grant defense counsel's demand for bail unless the district attorney's office produces official records explaining the lower court's reason for holding Paris without bail.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR MAN STRUCK BY NEW CASTLE MOTORIST

BEAVER FALLS, Dec. 28.—Funeral services were held this afternoon for Christopher N. Best, R. D. 3, who died Thursday in the Providence hospital from injuries received Friday, December 13, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Fred Hoover, 311 Pine street, New Castle. Mr. Hoover told state police that the 77-year-old man suddenly stepped out onto the roadway in front of his car.

Surviving the deceased are one sister, Mrs. John Safreed, North Sewickley township, and four brothers, including Albert Best of Ellwood City.

Kramer Credits Win To Schroeder

It Was At Kramer's Insistence That Ted Schroeder Got To Make Australian Trip

MELBOURNE, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Ted Schroeder, of Glendale, Cal., who bore half the burden in the defeat of Australia for the Davis Cup, not only was a last minute surprise choice to get into the competition but almost missed making the trip entirely.

It was revealed Friday after he and John Kramer, of Montebello, Cal., had regained the trophy with a clinching doubles win that Schroeder was made a member of the invading squad on the insistence of Kramer.

The latter wanted Schroeder as his doubles mate and prevailed on Walter Pate, non-playing captain, to bring Schroeder on the trip. The two Californians won the U. S. National doubles crown in 1940 and 1941. They were ranked third this year, when Schroeder wasn't ranked in singles at all.

Praises Schroeder

After their doubles victory over John Bromwich and Adrian Quist this afternoon, Kramer said:

"I want to be the first to say what a wonderful player Schroeder is. He's really brilliant and deserves all credit for our win."

Schroeder added:

'My only regret is that Joe Hunt couldn't be present to see us regain the cup. We often talked about this day."

Hunt teamed with Kramer on the 1939 doubles team and was killed as a navy pilot in a plane crash.

GET TEXAS GAS

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Natural gas from the Texas gas fields was flowing into fuel-hungry Pittsburgh industries today as the Equitable Gas company received its first allotment from the government-owned "inch" lines.

D. P. Hartson, vice president and general manager of the company, officially opened the valves tapping the inch lines yesterday near Waynesburg, Pa. The ceremony released a daily allotment of more than 1,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas to the Pittsburgh district.

WEINHEIMER RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—The Board of Athletic Control at New York University today sought a successor to Jack Weinheimer, who resigned yesterday after serving as football coach since 1944.

Big Bobby Lowther, Louisiana State's All Southeastern Conference basketball star, holds the one-game scoring record for the conference with 33 points scored against Keesler Field in 1945.

EXTRA Cash EXTRA Fast

IF you're short of cash and haven't finished your shopping, the best solution may be to see "Personal", the company that likes to say "Yes" to loan requests—no matter how small the amount ($25, $50, $100 or more) nor how quickly it's needed.

We don't waste time in deciding to make the loan—it's YES 4 times out of 5. You're not delayed waiting for a "committee" or a "board" to pass on your loan; there are no involved questionnaires to hold you up. All we need to know is how much you want and whether you're willing and able to make the small monthly payment.

LOANS ARE MADE on signature only, auto, truck or furniture. No co-signers or life insurance policies are needed; employer, friends, or relatives are not involved.

ECONOMY — No deductions or charges are made in advance. You get the full amount of your loan—pay only for the exact number of days you keep the money. No extra fees or fines; no repayment necessary for first 30 days.

1-VISIT LOANS. Simply telephone first—then come in by appointment to sign and pick up the cash.

Men and women, married or single. Come in or phone today.

Open Mon. thru Fri. 9-5. Evenings by App't.

MARKET SESSION IS DRAB AFFAIR

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Stocks plodded through another drab session in irregular fashion today. The averages ruled a shade higher but individual gains and losses were equally divided.

Trading was active in spurts with many cash transactions appearing on the tape.

Among the few changes of note were a point advance in Western Union "A" on the rate increase granted the company and a point decline in Allied Chemical.

Most steels and motors moved up small fractions. Rails were well mixed. No trend was discernible in coppers, mail orders, oils or utilities. Aviations were irregularly lower. Telephone shares were firm.

Irregularity was shown by bonds and curb stocks.

Fifth Anniversary Of Navy Seabees

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS) This is the day the Navy pays tribute to the "Can Do" boys.

It is the fifth birthday of the fighting Seabees, the Navy's construction gangs who helped to clear a path to victory.

The Seabees—the name comes from the initials C. B., standing for construction battalion, are only 7,000 in number now as compared with a wartime peak strength of 250,000.

But the outfit is a part of the regular Navy and is a skilled nucleus around which a new Seabee force could be built in case of emergency.

The first Seabee regiment was activated on Dec. 28, 1941, when the wreckage at Pearl Harbor symbolized the herculean task awaiting the nation's armed forces.

Local Librarians Send To State For Books On Geese, Skunks, Hypnosis And Pigeons

Far from being limited to the books on the shelves of the local library, New Castle readers are always requesting librarians to send to the Pittsburgh and Harrisburg libraries for other books on subjects in which the readers are interested.

Requests during the past year have included many sociology and psychology books, as well as a number of requests on subjects of particular interest to one person.

For example, one person wanted the Army and Navy register; another asked for books on cattle raising, "especially English"; someone else was reading up on the life of Swami Vivekanandar; and still another person wanted something about the raising of geese, especially the Embden white goose.

Other cards had requests for "instantaneous magnetism", "preventional correction of reading difficulties", material on the state of Washington, an old issue of the Saturday Evening Post, differential and integral calculus, a volume of "Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology" (requested by a lawyer), a work by Macchiavell, some fiction, information about construction cost accounting, instructions for tanning a rattlesnake hide, a book on metallic alloys and something about modern hypnosis.

There were even requests for a book on German swords, biological oxidation, the lumber industry, hand weaving, homing pigeons, the roots of the first World War, war gases, and the habits and food of skunks.

Gen. P. C. March Opposes Merger Of Armed Forces

Difference In Strategy Would Make Plan Fail, Former Chief Of Staff Declares

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Gen. Peyton C. March, former chief of staff of the Army and one of America's great soldiers, declared Friday that he is opposed to unification of the armed forces.

The 82-year-old military authority in a birthday interview asserted that consolidation of command at the top level "would not work". Gen. March said:

"The Navy does not want unification and I believe the Navy's opposition is based on sound reasons.

"There are too many differences in Army and Navy strategy, there are too many variations in the training of top Army and Navy commanders to permit efficiency in overall command given to an officer of either one of the services."

Views in Contrast

Gen. March admitted that his views are in contrast to those expressed by most Army men. He declared, however:

"I am convinced that maximum effectiveness of America's armed forces could not be obtained through a merger of the forces, although I believe that supply problems could be solved through unification at the procurement level."

The general said that universal military training would be the nation's best safeguard against war.

He also expressed his firm belief that the United States should under no circumstances share the secret of the atom bomb.

Gen. March said that he believes "new trouble" is breeding in Europe.

He criticized Allied handling of European occupation problems but had the utmost praise for Gen. MacArthur's record as supreme Allied commander in Japan.

Still Alert

Ramrod straight at 82, alert, keen-eyed, and, as he said, with "strong views on everything under the sun," the general recalled that as chief of staff in 1919 he fathered a universal military training plan similar to the one now advocated by President Truman.

He commented:

"If this nation had had universal military training, Japan would never have dared attack any American possession.

"A great reservoir of trained men who can instantly be called to arms is the most effective safeguard the United States can have against attack by any future aggressor.

"New weapons—guided missiles, the atom bomb and all the rest of them—do not alter the need for a reserve of trained soldiers ready for action whenever needed."

Wrecked Soviet Tanker Employed As Power Booster

EUREKA, Cal., Dec. 28.—(INS)—The hulk of a Russian "lend-lease" tanker will become part of the power system of the Pacific Gas & Electric company today.

Eureka's Mayor John P. Ryan will throw a switch in ceremonies marking what power company calls a "highpoint in postwar engineering ingenuity".

The Russian tanker, Donbas III, split in two during a heavy storm in the Aleutians last February. The afer-part, including the engine room, was purchased by the P. G. & E., with an eye to shortages of vital materials.

The hulk was towed to Eureka, where transformers and other necessary equipment were installed to link the sea-going power unit with land lines.

The tanker's steam generator will add 6,700 horsepower to the lines of P. G. &. E.'s Humboldt division.

LAUDS STATE-OWNED INSTITUTIONS FOR THEIR FOOD OUTPUT

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Secretary of Welfare S. M. R. O'Hara today lauded farms at four state-owned institutions for their food production.

Miss O'Hara reported that prizes for excellence in food production were awarded four establishments.

Western State Penitentiary at Rockview was awarded top honors for milk production and swine slaughtered per litter, she said. Allentown State hospital won first prizes for "field crop" and potato production.

The Woodville State hospital in Allegheny county received top honors for vegetable output.

The State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy copped prizes for egg production and vegetable and fruit processing, she reported.

Several species of birds called shorebirds, no larger than a man's clinched fist, make a second round-trip journey of 16,000 miles every year of their lives. Species include the killdeer and sandpiper.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—(INS)—If you don't think there are some doting wives in Hollywood let's take the case of Joan Fontaine.

The beauteous academy award winner has just made back-breaking commitments for the next two years just so she'll be ure to see a lot of her husband, Producer Bill Dozier, every day.

Joan quite prettily revealed the idea to your reporter on the set of Universal's "Ivy", the first of five pictures she'll make between now and January 1, 1949.

She explained:

"It certainly wouldn't be any fun to just sit at home by myself while Bill is working downtown.

"If I'm working too, then we can have lunch together and drive back and forth to work together."

Your reporter said:

"Do you mean to sit there and tell me your going into a schedule like this just to see more of Bill?"

"I certainly do," said Joan. "And all I hope is that you don't have to write my obituary at the end of two years."

Joan will have only ten days off between each of the five pictures, a very small vacation in view of the long schedules required to complete big pictures these days.

She'll follow "Ivy" with Winds of Chance" and then go into "Earth and Heaven" with Gregory Peck for Sam Goldwyn. Then she and Dozier are going to make a picture of their own. The idea is secret.

The last picture on the schedule is "Victoria Grandolet", for Mike Curtiz at Warners.

"I sold Mike the idea on that one," Joan said. "He came over to the house one night to see if I would do a picture. I told him that I was very interested in doing this particular Warner property.

"We talked about it until midnight. Mike called me up the next morning and we made a deal."

Outside of being near Bill, Joan said she'd rather be working at the moment than stay home, anyhow.

That's because decorators are still working on the honeymoon home they bought out at Brentwood last summer, soon after their marriage.

I don't know when they're ever going to get it finished," Joan said, "when we got home the other day there were 12 men working in one room."

Joan gave a big sigh.

Phyllis Calvert would like to become a commuter between London and Hollywood.

She's been working a month now in her first American picture and she likes it.

The English beauty said:

"I can't think of anything more pleasant than to make two pictures a year, one in London and one in Hollywood. That would divide the year up perfectly, four months for each of the pictures and four months for vacation."

Your reporter spent a pleasant half hour talking to Miss Calvert in her dressing room at Universal, where she's starring in "Time Out of Mind".

She arrived in Hollywood for her first visit just three months ago. She admits she was somewhat unhappy the first two months. She had two much time on her hands.

"But, after I started working I felt entirely differently," she said. "I really like Hollywood as compared to London.

She said there isn't much difference in the technique of making pictures in Hollywood as compared to London.

"I think equipment here is generally better and you have more conveniences, but otherwise everything is much the same," she said.

Most notable difference, she said, is in the wardrobes.

"Due to rationing, you have all your clothes in London before the picture starts," she explained, over here they make your dresses as you go along."

Energetic Anne Revere finally has abandoned her little theater project after it had staged five successful plays. Her acceptance of the role of Mother Red Cap in "Forever Amber" brought her final decision.

Anne explained:

"It took too much time and too much energy to keep it going. I couldn't do it and keep up with my screen roles at the same time."

Anne's going back to New York City for a visit when her current role is completed. She would like very much to do another play on Broadway. Her last appearance there was in 1939 in "Three Sisters".

Her only stage appearance since was in "Candida", which her own group presented.

Private Firm Takes Over Camp Reynolds

GREENVILLE, Dec. 28.—Custody, maintenance and protection of Camp Reynolds, near here, was taken over by the firm of McGraw Construction company of Middletown, Ohio, after operations were relinquished by army engineers.

The changeover in operations from the Army to a private concern will not affect the services now maintained to benefit the residents of Reynolds Village, a housing development across the highway from the camp. Operation of the water system and the sewage disposal plant which serve the village, will be continued.

Says Venezuela Using Terrorism To Thwart Revolt

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28.—(INS)—The Miami-Herald today quoted the leader of a group of Venezuelan exiles as charging that the country's government has resorted to "torture and terrorism" in efforts to prevent a counter-revolution.

In a story by Staff Write H. Stuart Morrison, the Herald said the exiles had told of "wholesale arrests, hanging of suspected plotters by their thumbs, third degree under powerful lights and administration of drugs to force confessions."

At the same time, Morrison wrote that Venezuelan government officials have denied the charges.

The writer quoted Alberto Bustamante, a former lieutenant in the Venezuelan army and one-time congressman in the country's chamber of deputies, as spokesman for the unidentified exiles.

The story said Bustamante is now living in New York.

Venezuela's latest revolution attempt occurred two weeks ago when rebels seized an airport and loosed bombs near the presidential palace. Some of the rebel forces are reportedly still holding out in hilly areas.

The Herald quoted Bustamante as saying "there have been more than 600 persons arrested since the revolution attempt, and horrible mental and physical tortures were practiced on other prominent citizens."

FORGED CHECKS PAID

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28—(INS)—Second National bank officials blinked in astonishment today when 18 New Year's dividend checks, each for $50, came from the clearing house marked "paid."

The reason for their surprise: The dividend hasn't even been distributed.

Robert L. Hilles, president of the bank, said all the cashed checks were forgeries and counterfeits.

"None of the genuine checks will be mailed out until next Thursday," he said.

The total of the bogus dividend checks was $900.

Scientists Display Latest Inventions At Boston Meeting

New Permanent Hair Wave Lotion Will Interest Ladies, Many Other New Ideas

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Science, to interest all persons, was on tap in Boston.

For milady there was a new cold permanent hair wave lotion which will produce a wave in 20 minutes, saving a long, hot afternoon under a hairdressers' machine.

For asthma and allergy sufferers there was hope for cure—in a new synthetic drug, "pyribenzamine".

Physicists behaved like boys with new toys at the sight of a machine to generate oxygen from liquid at an altitude of 20 miles.

Entomologists had their place, too. They were studying a paper on the compartive behaviors of ants and termites.

5,000 Present

These and many more scientific developments were being displayed at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, attended by 5,000 of the country's leading scientists. Sessions are being held at Boston hotels and Greater Boston institutions of learning.

Raymond E. Reed, research director of a nationally known cosmetic laboratory, said the new hair wave lotion operates naturally and will not harm the hair. He said that in the hands of a skilled operator it will not interfere with the hair-growing processes.

The new drug, pyribenzamine, is administered by injection. When used in combination with histamine for the treatment of asthma, hay fever and hives, it minimizes the bad effects of the histamine. It is on display in one of the booth exhibits, where scientists were told only 30 per cent of those treated with the combination showed any ill effects.

Amish Dolls Are Shown At Library

On exhibit in the display case of the Public Library, a group of small, handmade Amish dolls reveal numerous features of the life of the Pennsylvania Dutch.

The intricate work on the dolls has been done by an invalid. Miss Hazel Clark of Martin's Ferry, who loaned them to the library through a local friend, Miss Hannah Rosenberg. Miss Clark made the dolls of clothes pins, with plastic wood faces, hands and feet. Several of them carry tiny baskets made from plumb stones and cherry stones.
